SPA SAN LUIS INTRODUCES YUKO'S LONG LASTING CONDITIONING TREATMENT TO ITS LINE OF FIRST-CLASS OFFERINGS
Spa San Luis a true destination for innovative and luxurious spa treatments

GALVESTON –Spa San Luis at The San Luis Resort, Spa & Conference Center, in Galveston, Texas, is home to some of the region's most luxurious spa offerings and treatments available on the market today. Spa San Luis is thrilled to offer clients the Yuko's Long Lasting Conditioning Treatment, an excellent complement to the Yuko Japanese Hair Straightening system currently offered at Spa San Luis.

The Yuko Long Lasting Conditioning treatment is a four-step system that replenishes necessary nutrients into damaged hair, sealing in moisture to help hair maintain a silky look and feel. The system utilizes Aqua Gold water, which provides added healing powers to hair repair. The water is electrically stabilized by water-soluble gold, which offers harmony and balance to damaged, coarse, chemically treated or colored hair. The Long Lasting Conditioning Treatment system begins by reconditioning damaged parts of the hair. The hair's moisture level is balanced out after being sprayed with Yuko Beauty's professional, additive-free Kokoro G water, which contains important amino acids, rich jojoba oil, conditioning keratin and wheat proteins to penetrate the hair shaft and allow internal repair and moisture. Next, a base coat forms around the cuticle as the system penetrates its ingredients directly into the hair for internal repairs. This smoothes out and closes edgy cuticles, creating smoother hair.

The Yuko Long Lasting Conditioning Treatment system takes less than 30 minutes to complete, and offers results that last up to three weeks. Customers may elongate the results of the treatment by picking up Yuko's take home conditioner.

"Continuous innovation in our line of products and spa treatments is what has earned us the award-winning reputation as a destination for luxury," said Christine Toop, Director of Spa Services at Spa San Luis. "Our spa treatments go above and beyond client's expectations, with attention to detail that is difficult to find anywhere else."
